Introduction

This Companion Volume Implementation Guide has been developed to provide advice and guidance on the implementation of the SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package. It also includes key information on the industry and its workforce needs.

Background

In 2012 the National Skills Standards Council (NSSC) endorsed a set of Standards for Training Packages, to ensure that Training Packages are of high quality and meet the workforce development needs of industry, enterprises and individuals. The Standards for Training Packages apply to the design and development of Training Packages for endorsement consideration.

Standard 1 identifies the products that must comprise a Training Package. This includes:

- Four endorsed components:
 - Units of competency
 - Assessment requirements (associated with each unit of competency)
 - Qualifications
 - Credit arrangements
- One or more quality assured companion volumes.

Quality assurance of companion volumes

The companion volumes developed by Service Skills Australia follow a quality assurance process throughout development to ensure that the guides produced are available at the time of endorsement of the Training Package and that the Implementation Guide complies with the template.

Steps in the quality assurance process:

Consult

1. Project Advisory Group informs content.
2. Industry and registered training organisations (RTOs) provide input.

Develop

1. Draft Companion Volume(s) prepared.
2. Format and copy edit first draft.
3. Draft 2 Companion Volume(s) prepared.
4. Cross-check Companion Volume(s) with draft Training Package components for endorsement.
5. Review by Project Advisory Group.

Quality Assurance

6. Copy edit and proofread.
7. Final internal quality assurance checks.

Sign off

8. Sign-off by Project Advisory Group.
9. Implementation Guide made available for external quality assurance panel member.
10. Desktop publish and upload to website.

Overview Information

This Implementation Guide is designed to assist assessors, trainers, RTOs and enterprises to deliver the SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package. It provides advice about the structure and content of the Training Package, its key features, and industry-specific information applicable to implementation.

1.1 SIT qualifications

Qualifications are created by combining units of competency into groups that meet job roles and are meaningful in the workplace, and aligning those groups of competencies to vocational qualifications in the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Qualifications therefore:

- represent key industry functions directly related to occupational positions in the industry
- are a framework, not a course.

1.3 SIT units of competency and prerequisite units

Units of competency in Training Packages are developed by industry to meet the identified skill needs of industry. Each unit of competency identifies a discrete workplace requirement and includes the skills and knowledge that underpin competency, as well as language, literacy and numeracy requirements. Units of competency therefore:

- are nationally agreed statements of the skills and knowledge required for effective performance in a particular job or job function
- describe work outcomes
- logically stand alone when applied in a work situation.

A prerequisite is a unit of competency in which the individual must be deemed competent prior to the determination of competency in another unit. Prerequisites are applicable when competency cannot be achieved in a given unit of competency without first gaining essential skills and knowledge from other unit(s) of competency. Prerequisite units are included as part of the full qualification and contribute to the total outcome of the qualification.

1.5 Qualification mapping

1.5.1 Determination of equivalence

A qualification is mapped as equivalent (E) when it provides the same skill and knowledge outcomes:

- core units remain the same or are replaced by similar units that provide the same skill and knowledge outcomes
- number of elective units remain the same or are increased or decreased slightly.

A qualification is mapped as not equivalent (N) when it provides different skill and knowledge outcomes:

- units have been added to the core, providing additional skill and knowledge outcomes
- units have been removed from the core, reducing skill and knowledge outcomes
- a significant number of additional elective units are required
- entry requirements are altered creating significant differences to the structure of the qualification.

1.6 Unit mapping

1.6.1 Determination of equivalence

A unit is mapped as equivalent (E) when it provides the same skill and knowledge outcomes:

- elements and performance criteria are the same, but are re-ordered and/or expressed differently for clarity
- knowledge requirements are the same, but are expressed differently for clarity.

A unit is mapped as not equivalent (N) when it provides different skill and knowledge outcomes:

- elements and/or performance criteria have been added or removed
- knowledge requirements have been added or removed.

In all cases, the requirements for assessment are now more fully prescribed in the Assessment Requirements associated with each unit of competency, but this does not affect the skill and knowledge content of the unit.

1.7 Key work and training requirements in the industry

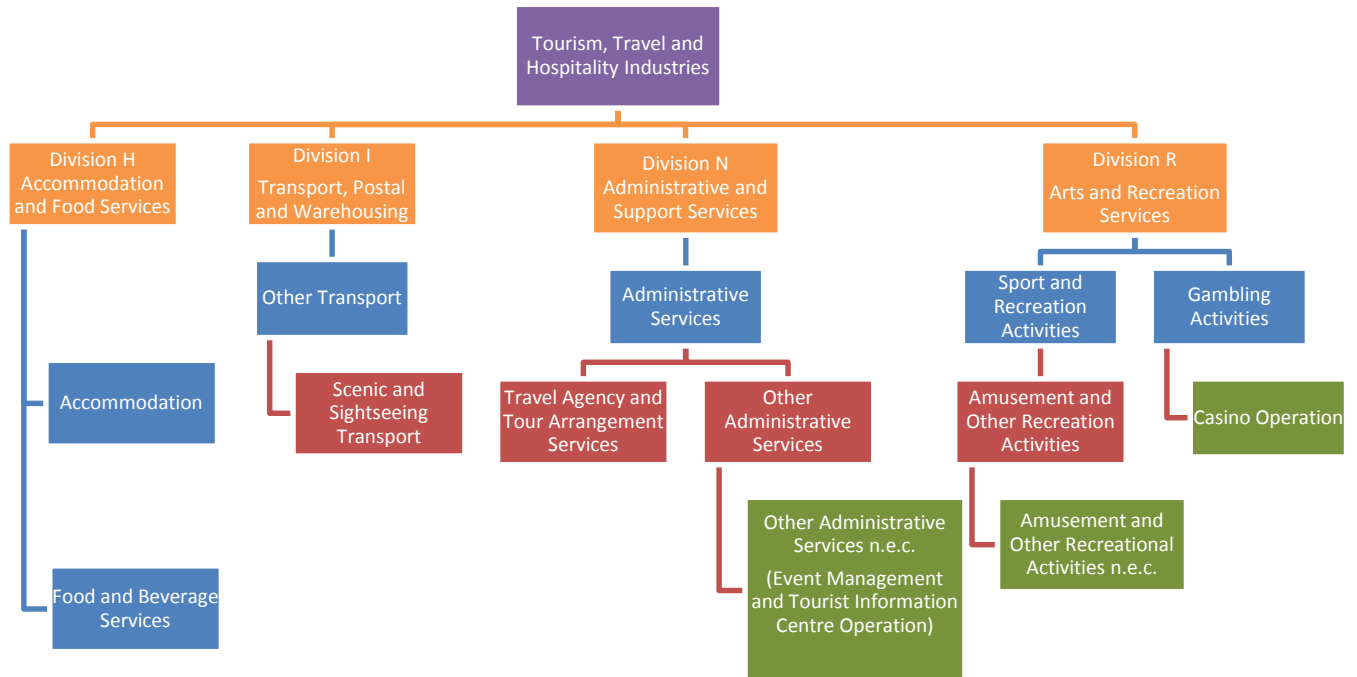

1.7.1 Overview of the tourism, travel and hospitality industries

The breadth of what can be collectively considered the tourism, travel and hospitality industries is defined in the Australia and New Zealand Standard Industrial Classification (ANZSIC)¹ as:

- accommodation and food services
- scenic and sightseeing transport
- travel agency and tour arrangement services
- event management and tourist information centre operation
- amusement and other recreational activities
- casino operation.

An outline of these industries is shown below in Figure 1. There is a significant degree of interrelationship between tourism, travel and hospitality firms because of the integrated products and services produced, the close business-to-business relationships that exist across all the industries, the common customers serviced, and the sales and service staff employed, who often cross industries during their career. As at November 2014, these industries totaled almost 1 million employees, accounting for a little over eight per cent of the Australian workforce.²

The hospitality industry encompasses businesses that provide accommodation, food and beverages. This includes restaurants, cafés and takeaway food, pubs and bars, hotels, motels and other accommodation, and hospitality clubs and casinos. These businesses make up the entirety of what is classified under 'Accommodation and Food Services' and 'Casino Operation' in the ANZSIC. Key job roles, based on the Australia New Zealand Standard Classification of Occupations (ANZSCO)³, include:

- Bar Attendants and Baristas
- Café Workers

- Caravan Park and Camping Ground Managers
- Hotel and Motel Managers
- Licensed Club Managers

The travel industry encompasses businesses acting as agents to sell travel, tour and accommodation services, as well as businesses that mainly arrange, assemble, wholesale and retail tours. This is captured in the classification of 'Travel Agency and Tour Arrangement Services' in the ANZSIC. Key job roles, based on the ANZSCO, include:

- Tourism and Travel Advisers

Tourism, in the context of the Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package, is primarily related to tours, guiding and visitor information services. These activities are captured in 'Scenic and Sightseeing Transport' and 'Other Administrative Services n.e.c.'. Key job roles, based on the ANZSCO, include:

- Gallery, Museum and Tour Guides

Finally, event coordination and management services are classified under 'Other Administrative Services' in the ANZSIC. This Training Package is relevant to event organisation and management by professional conference organisers, exhibition and event management companies, hospitality and cultural venues. Events are diverse in nature and the skills for coordination can apply to many types, including business events (conventions, meetings, seminars and incentive travel), festivals and arts-based events.

Key job roles, based on the ANZSCO, include:

- Conference and Event Organisers

It should be noted that the tourism industry has its own definition and framework, as defined by Australia's Tourism Satellite Account.⁴ This framework encompasses the sum of all the industries in which 'visitors' consume a substantial proportion of their products or services. From this perspective, the tourism industry is mostly made up of accommodation and food services, but it also involves a portion of industries, such as retail, transport and arts and recreation services — of which the training needs of these industries are largely served by other Training Packages. It should also be noted that the term 'tourism', according to Australian and international standards, is not restricted to leisure-based travel; it also includes business and education travel, as well as any travel for any reason provided the destination is outside the person's usual environment.⁵ Clearly, the SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package is relevant to the tourism industry, but also to the hospitality and events industries that serve the local clientele, who are not 'visitors'.

1.7.2 Industry trends and issues

Service Skills Australia produces an annual Environmental Scan for the tourism, travel and hospitality industry, which identifies key and current factors impacting on the skills needs of industry. The following table outlines current industry and workforce issues and how they have been addressed within the SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package.

Key industry skills Customer service, problem-solving and decision-making skills are key industry skills. Training is required in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • quality customer service • problem solving and decision making. 	SIT includes a suite of customer service units, which are generally packaged in the core of qualifications designed for frontline service roles: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SITXCCS003 Interact with customers • SITXCCS006 Provide service to customers • SITXCCS007 Enhance the customer service experience • SITXCCS008 Develop and manage quality customer service practices. SIT includes three skill sets to equip individuals with communication and service skills: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SITSS00035 Customer Service Management • SITSS00036 Customer Service • SITSS00042 Service for International Visitors.
Attraction, retention and career paths Industry has problems with attracting and keeping the right staff: those with the right attitude to work in an industry where service is paramount. People no longer maintain a constant vertical career path within the one industry. They may engage in a variety of job roles across a range of industries or industry sectors. Training is required in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • good recruitment and induction processes • skills that are transferable across all industry sectors, business models and product styles. 	The unit SITXHRM004 Recruit, select and induct staff provides skills tailored to the service industries. SIT contains a suite of cross-sector units that are written broadly to apply to all industry sectors. These provide for the acquisition of generic and transferable skills in product development, finances, sales, marketing, business and people management. Technical units, such as those for cookery, event and travel and tourism coordination, are also written broadly so they can apply to a range of product styles. Qualifications are structured to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • apply to different business models and product styles, allowing individuals to acquire skills that readily transfer to any type of operator, e.g. food, beverage and cooking skills for cafés, fine dining restaurants and clubs; tourism coordination skills for tour wholesalers who deliver a range of products or tour operators that specialise in Indigenous, adventure or ecotourism • allow credit transfer for those wishing to complete secondary qualifications to gain additional skills for different job roles and sectors, e.g. it is possible to gain credit towards an events qualification after a tourism qualification; a tourism qualification after a travel qualification; and a hospitality qualification after any of these qualifications. The flexible packaging of units and qualifications reflects the fact that people are likely to work in multiple industry job roles and sectors and require transferable skills. They are designed to encourage the retention of trained people within the tourism, travel and hospitality industry.
Mentoring for retention Industry newcomers are often unaware of industry conditions and the significant service demands. If not properly encouraged to recognise and work with these demands, they are more likely to leave the industry. Training is required in mentoring skills.	SIT includes the following units and skill sets: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SITXHRM001 Coach others in job skills • SITXHRM003 Lead and manage people • SITXHRM006 Monitor staff performance • SITSS00039 Mentoring and Supervision • SITSS00057 Supervision of Cookery Apprentices.

Industry and Work Issue	Training Package Response
Casual workforce and seasonality Some sectors of the workforce, especially hospitality, are characterised by a high casual workforce. The impact of peak and off-peak seasons in some tourism destinations is a major concern for many tourism, travel and hospitality businesses. Industry needs the right people with the right skills at the right time. Individuals need skills that are transferable across industry sectors, business models and product styles to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • create 'portfolio jobs' where they can work for a number of businesses in casual positions • readily re-locate to different regions to gain work when it is available. 	In SIT, flexible units and qualifications recognise that people are likely to work within multiple industry job roles and sectors and require transferable skills. They are designed to allow individuals to acquire skills that readily transfer to any type of operator and destination.
Online marketing and sales Technology is having a major impact on how consumers obtain destination and product information and how industry markets and distributes it product. There are a number of implications: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Consumers are well educated in destination and product knowledge or have the ability to readily research details. This means industry personnel need expert destination and product knowledge to answer detailed enquiries. • The propensity of social media users to provide feedback, sometimes negative, is well known. Businesses need to manage feedback provided not only on their own social media page but on external review platforms. • Tourism, travel and hospitality businesses are moving away from traditional distribution models, including bricks and mortar travel agencies and reservation call centres, with a stronger online presence. Training is required in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • expert destination and product knowledge • managing feedback and public complaints • developing and maintaining website and social media platforms • using online sales channels for receiving bookings and payments • strategy and planning for online engagement • risk management and crisis management for online engagement • using social media for communication. 	SIT includes the following units and skill set: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SITTTSL002 Access and interpret product information • SITTTSL003 Provide advice on international destinations • SITTTSL004 Provide advice on Australian destinations • SITTTSL017 Maintain product inventories • SITXEBS001 Use social media in a business • SITXEBS002 Develop, implement and monitor the use of social media in a business • SITXEBS003 Build and launch a small business website • SITSS00062 Online Engagement for Small Business. It also includes the following imported units of competency: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • BSBEBU501 Investigate and design e-business solutions • BSBEBU502 Implement e-business solutions • BSBITU305 Conduct online transactions • BSBMKG412 Conduct e-marketing communications • BSBMKG510 Plan e-marketing communications.

Attracting and servicing international visitors Australia is now attracting more than six million international visitors a year and this custom is crucial to the success of the tourism and hospitality industry. There are a number of implications: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tourism and hospitality operators need to engage in international marketing activities to maintain and grow international visitation. • Products need to be tailored to meet the needs of different markets and the unique experiences some international visitors seek. • The experience needs to match the promise of world class service, not only in major cities, but also in regional Australia. Training is required in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • marketing and sales, especially via web and social media based platforms • planning and product development • cultural awareness and language skills. 	SIT includes the following marketing, product development, cultural awareness and language units: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SITXMPR005 Participate in cooperative online marketing initiatives • SITXMPR007 Develop and implement marketing strategies • a range of e-business units mentioned under the previous section addressing Online marketing and sales • SITTPPD006 Assess tourism opportunities for local communities • SITTPPD007 Research and analyse tourism data • SITTPPD008 Develop tourism products • SITTPPD010 Develop culturally appropriate tourism operations • SITTPPD011 Develop and implement local or regional tourism plan • SITXCOM002 Show social and cultural sensitivity • SITXLAN001 Conduct basic oral communication in a language other than English • SITXLAN002 Conduct routine oral communication in a language other than English • SITXLAN003 Conduct oral communication in a language other than English • SITXLAN004 Conduct complex oral communication in a language other than English • SITXLAN005 Read and write information in a language other than English • SITXLAN006 Read and write documents in a language other than English. It also includes the following imported units of competency: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • BSBMKG401 Profile the market • BSBMKG607 Manage market research • BSBSMB403 Market the small business. Higher level qualifications have a focus on marketing and product development: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SIT50116 Diploma of Travel and Tourism Management • SIT50216 Diploma of Holiday Park and Resort Management • SIT50416 Diploma of Hospitality Management • SIT60116 Advanced Diploma of Travel and Tourism Management • SIT60216 Advanced Diploma of Event Management • SIT60316 Advanced Diploma of Hospitality Management. There are also three skill sets to equip individuals with skills to attract and service the international visitor market: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SITSS00040 Product Development for International Visitor Markets • SITSS00041 Product Sales for International Visitor Markets • SITSS00042 Service for International Visitors.

1.8 Regulation and licensing implications for implementation

1.8.1 General laws

Tourism, travel and hospitality industry personnel must comply with general laws that regulate customer, business and employee interaction for all types of businesses, for example consumer protection and work health and safety law.

Wherever knowledge of a general law is required to effectively perform a job task described in the unit of competency, it is covered in the knowledge evidence field of the Assessment Requirements. The Assessment Conditions field requires RTOs to provide current regulatory documents to assist the assessment.

For example, the unit SITTTSL006 Prepare quotations:

Knowledge Evidence of Relevant Law	Assessment Conditions Resource Requirement
Primary components of consumer protection laws that relate to providing quotations, including organisational responsibility for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • nominating and charging cancellation fees • providing information on potential price increases • providing refunds • supplying products as described or substituting suitable products when product is unavailable. 	Current plain English regulatory documents distributed by government consumer protection regulators.

1.8.2 Laws that specifically apply to the tourism, travel and hospitality industry

There is a range of laws and codes of specific relevance to the tourism, travel and hospitality industry. Wherever a specific law, regulation, business or occupational licensing arrangement exists, it is mentioned in the Application section of a unit of competency.

Required knowledge of that law is also described, as above, in the Knowledge Evidence field and any required resources are also prescribed in the Assessment Conditions. At the time of publication, these laws and codes and related units include:

- Criminal Code Act (1995) – provisions for child sex offences outside Australia and child sex tourism
 - SITTTSL005 Sell tourism products and services
- Financial Services Reform Act (2001) – provisions for the sale of travel insurance
 - SITTTSL005 Sell tourism products and services
- Food Standards Australia New Zealand Act 1991 and the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code
 - SITXFSA001 Use hygienic practices for food safety
 - SITXFSA002 Participate in safe food handling practices
 - SITXFSA003 Transport and store food
 - SITXFSA004 Develop and implement a food safety program
- Queensland Tourism Services Act (2003) – affects inbound tour operators, no matter where located, selling tours that operate within Queensland; also guides, residing anywhere in Australia, when working in Queensland and selling local products
 - SITTTSL005 Sell tourism products and services
 - SITTGDE002 Work as a guide
- State and territory gambling/gaming Acts – provisions for the responsible conduct/service of gambling/gaming
 - SITHGAM001 Provide responsible gambling services
- State and territory liquor licensing Acts – provisions for the responsible sale or service of alcohol in licensed venues
 - SITHFAB002 Provide responsible service of alcohol

Only some of these laws require an individual to hold occupational certification.

1.8.3 Occupational certification requirements for the tourism, travel and hospitality industry

Individuals being assessed under statutory or industry occupational licensing or certification systems must comply with training and experience requirements additional to the requirements identified in this Training Package.

These additional requirements and implications for individuals and registered training organisations are outlined in the following table.

2.0 Implementation Information

2.1 Key features of the Training Package and the industry that will impact on the selection of training pathways

The skills outlined in this Training Package may be attained via:

- formal or informal education and training
- experience in the workplace
- general life experience
- any combination of the above.

2.1.1 Resourcing training and assessment pathways

The delivery of training and assessment in a realistic operational environment using current industry tools, equipment, documents and other resources plays an essential role in skills development and produces graduates that should be immediately useful and competent in an industry environment.

Mandatory conditions and resources are specified in the Assessment Conditions field in the Assessment Requirements for each unit of competency. The mandatory resources include the:

- physical environment where assessment must take place
- equipment and resources that must be provided
- consumable resources or stock that must be provided
- workplace documentation required
- people who must be present, if relevant
- time imperatives and/or time constraints
- assessor requirements.

The availability of the above resources will be a key factor in selecting an appropriate training and assessment pathway.

An example from SITHFAB003 Operate a bar

Skills must be demonstrated in an operational commercial bar. This can be:

- an industry workplace
- a simulated industry environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- fixtures and large equipment:
 - bar service area
 - cashiering facilities:
 - electric cash register
 - credit card
 - EFTPOS facilities
 - coffee- and tea-making equipment
 - glass washer
 - ice:
 - crusher

- must be achieved prior to enrolling in a qualification
- are specific to the skills, knowledge or experience required to enter a qualification
- may be expressed as:

2.4 Pathways advice

The following pathways chart shows the pathways into and from qualifications that are possible with this Training Package.

SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package qualifications provide a clear progression from entry level to more senior, supervisory and management job roles.

In the tourism, travel and hospitality industries supervisors and managers regularly undertake operational duties. Executive chefs in restaurants, clubs and hotel environments still cook; tourism and travel managers sell and quote on travel products on a daily basis; managers in accommodation establishments will regularly take reservations and check-in guests.

Industry, therefore, has designed higher level qualifications that may incorporate a range of technical or operational competencies. The requirement to achieve these units to obtain a Certificate IV, Diploma and Advanced Diploma is in keeping with tourism, travel and hospitality job outcomes at supervisory and management levels.

2.4.1 Pathways into SIT qualifications

Direct entry is allowed for all SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package qualifications except the following which have an entry requirement:

- SIT40316 Certificate IV in Holiday Parks and Resorts
- SIT50216 Diploma of Holiday Park and Resort Management.

For all other qualifications, individuals may enter the qualification with no vocational experience, without prior achievement of any units of competency and without a lower level qualification in any discipline.

The tourism, travel and hospitality industries, however, highly recommend that individuals complete the relevant Certificate III qualification and gain vocational experience in industry before progressing to a Certificate IV qualification. Certificate IV qualifications provide for the acquisition of more senior or supervisory skills. Industry has an expectation that people in supervisory roles would have gained workplace experience in operational duties before coordinating the duties of others.

Industry also strongly recommends that individuals complete the relevant Certificate III qualification and gain vocational experience in industry before progressing to a Diploma or Advanced Diploma. These higher level qualifications provide for the acquisition of managerial skills at an operational and strategic level. Industry has an expectation that individuals would have gained workplace experience in operational duties before progressing to managerial roles of significant responsibility.

2.4.2 Pathways from SIT qualifications

This chart indicates that those who exit with the above qualifications have the skills to work in industry at different levels of responsibility. It is not intended to indicate that an individual will gain immediate employment at that level.

Individuals who complete a qualification designed for one industry sector or job function can select qualifications for other sectors, e.g. complete a qualification in tourism and then events or hospitality. Many skills are transferrable. They may also progress to higher level qualifications within the same sector or for the same job function, e.g. progress from a Certificate III in Commercial Cookery to a Certificate IV in Commercial Cookery and then to a Diploma of Hospitality.

2.4.3 Qualifications suited to VET delivered to secondary school students

SIT qualifications are designed to provide particular job outcomes at all AQF levels. All are regarded by the tourism, travel and hospitality industry as 'pathway or preparatory' study for other qualifications. For example, SIT20316 Certificate II in Hospitality provides for a variety of job outcomes that include bar attendant, porter and room attendant. Employers expect graduates with this qualification, and all SIT qualifications, to be ready to work and to be competent in the required skills. Delivery to secondary school students, therefore, must comply – in the same way as any other delivery – with the requirements outlined in the Training Package, including those for environments, equipment and assessors.

The following SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package qualifications are suitable for delivery to secondary school students:

- SIT10116 Certificate I in Tourism (Australian Indigenous Culture)
- SIT10216 Certificate I in Hospitality
- SIT20116 Certificate II in Tourism
- SIT20216 Certificate II in Holiday Parks and Resorts
- SIT20316 Certificate II in Hospitality
- SIT20416 Certificate II in Kitchen Operations
- SIT20516 Certificate II in Asian Cookery.

Part-time school-based apprenticeships and traineeships are delivered by RTOs in conjunction with on-the-job training provided by employers. This would be appropriate provided the requirements for the above qualifications can be met alongside the requirements for completion of the Senior Secondary Certificate of Education, e.g. HSC, VCE, WACE, etc.

Industry does not support the delivery of qualifications above Certificate II level to secondary school students.

2.4.4 Qualifications suited to Australian traineeships or apprenticeships

All SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package qualifications from Certificate II through to Advanced Diploma are suitable for an Australian Apprenticeship pathway:

2.5 Access and equity considerations

An individual's access to training and assessment should not be adversely affected by restrictions placed on location or context beyond the requirements specified in this Training Package: training and assessment must be bias-free.

The flexibilities offered by the SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package should enhance opportunities and potential outcomes so all may benefit from a wider national skills base and a shared contribution to Australia's economic development and social and cultural life.

Standards for the registration of training organisations require RTOs to adhere to common principles of access and equity. For implementation of the SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package it is important that:

- learners have access to accurate and current information about qualifications and job outcomes in industry
- training and assessment are customised to the individual's current employment or employment prospects in their local region, including access to elective units of competency to achieve relevant job outcomes and training and assessment activities that are directly related to their work
- for equity in assessment, conditions for training and assessment should not exceed those specified in the assessment requirements for each unit of competency
- learners have access to accurate and current information about their rights during training and assessment, including:
 - an efficient and effective complaints and appeals process
 - training, assessment and support services that meet individual needs, including reasonable adjustment of assessments.

2.5.1 Reasonable adjustment

It is important that RTOs take meaningful, transparent and reasonable steps to consult, consider and implement reasonable adjustments for learners with a disability.

Under the Disability Standards for Education 2005, providers must make reasonable adjustments for people with a disability to the maximum extent that those adjustments do not cause that provider unjustifiable hardship. While 'reasonable adjustment' and 'unjustifiable hardship' are different concepts and involve different considerations, they both seek to strike a balance between the interests of providers and the interests of learners with and without disability.

An adjustment is any measure or action that a learner requires because of their disability, and which has the effect of assisting the learner to access and participate in education and training on the same basis as learners without disability. An adjustment is reasonable if it achieves this purpose while taking into account factors such as the nature of the learner's disability, the views of the learner, the potential effect of the adjustment on the learner and others who might be affected, and the costs and benefits of making the adjustment.

A provider is also entitled to maintain the academic integrity of a course or program and to consider the requirements or components that are inherent or essential to its nature when assessing whether an adjustment is reasonable. There may be more than one adjustment that is reasonable in a given set of circumstances; providers are required to make adjustments that are reasonable and that do not cause them unjustifiable hardship.

It is important that providers understand that the content of the unit cannot be changed as this describes a workplace outcome. For example, the workplace requires an individual to know the key features of food and beverage items on the menu in order to provide information to customers when undertaking SITHFAB007 Serve food and beverage.

The inherent requirements of the actual workplace performance described by the unit of competency must inform the decision about what adjustment is reasonable. That same unit requires individuals to record customer orders and write clear and precise notes on special requests. Competency could not be solely assessed by asking oral questions about what should be included; the learner would need to be able to write.

Information about the Disability Standards for Education 2005 is available at: education.gov.au/disability-standards-education.

2.6 Foundation skills

The five core foundation skills of reading, writing, oral communication, numeracy and learning have been embedded into the units of competency in this Training Package. Additionally, employment skills (the non-technical skills and knowledge necessary for effective participation in the workforce) have also been embedded. These employment skills are problem-solving, initiative and enterprise, teamwork, planning and organising, self-management and technology.

Not every unit of competency will include a description of every foundation skill or employment skill. Some units of competency describe some of those skills but not others, e.g. a unit may describe reading, numeracy and problem-solving skills only. Qualifications contain a range of units of competency; the combination will appropriately cover all foundation skills and employment skills required for the job outcome.

Foundation skills have been included in the unit of competency in two ways.

- Relevant skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria, written in a way that reflects both the context and the skill level.
- Those skills essential to performance of a unit of competency that are NOT explicit in the performance criteria are summarised in the foundation skills field within the unit of competency, together with a description reflecting the workplace skill.

The foundation skill statements are specific to each unit of competency and explain what the person is doing with the foundation skill; for example, the specific numeracy and technology skills required in SITXINV002 to maintain the quality of perishable items.

The foundation skill statements also provide guidance on the level of skill required by highlighting their specific application. For example, the types of documents that must be written and their complexity, which indicates the level of writing required. The complexity or level of the foundation skill directly reflects the workplace skill described in the unit of competency.

An example from SITXINV002 Maintain the quality of perishable items is provided below.

Performance criteria

- 1.1. Conduct temperature checks on delivered goods ensuring they are within specified tolerances. (numeracy, technology)
- 1.2. Record temperature results according to organisational procedures. (writing, numeracy)
- 1.3. Identify deficiencies with delivered food items, and reject supply within scope of own responsibility, or report findings. (problem solving, oral communication/writing)

- 1.5. Date code all perishable supplies to maximise their use. (writing, numeracy)
- 1.6. Promptly store supplies in appropriate storage area to minimise wastage and avoid food contamination. (planning and organising)

2.7 Health and safety implications for the tourism, travel and hospitality industries

Work in the tourism, travel and hospitality industry is diverse and involves varied environments and equipment. Particular risks to health and safety are as follows.

For frontline service personnel in hotels, pubs, taverns and clubs, injury from:

- violent robberies
- aggressive or intoxicated customers.

For those working in kitchens, injury and illness from:

- using hot stoves, ovens, deep fryers and dishwashers (burns)
- using knives and slicing machines (cuts and abrasions)
- slips, trips and falls from wet floors
- lifting, shifting and moving heavy pots, pans, stock and kitchen waste
- inhaling and ingesting, and skin and eye contact with, hazardous cleaning substances
- exposure to hot and cold environments, e.g. cool rooms.

For those working in bars and cellars, injury and illness from:

- using glass-washers (burns)
- using knives (cuts and abrasions)
- slips, trips and falls from wet floors
- lifting, shifting and moving heavy stock and bar waste
- inhaling and ingesting, and skin and eye contact with, hazardous cleaning substances
- inert gases and gas leaks in confined spaces.

For those working in grounds and facility maintenance, injury or illness from:

- use of power tools and heavy mechanical equipment (burns, cuts, abrasions and electric shock)
- lifting, shifting and moving heavy items and waste
- inhaling and ingesting, and skin and eye contact with, hazardous chemicals and cleaning substances
- exposure to extreme heat or cold.

For those working in tourism delivery (attractions, guiding, tour operations), injury or illness from:

- ride, vehicle, aircraft or vessel accidents
- accidents associated with outdoor recreation equipment or activities
- lifting, shifting and moving heavy items, such as luggage and camping equipment
- exposure to extreme heat and cold, storms, floods and bushfires
- wild animals and local wildlife.

Learners in the workplace or simulated environment are equally exposed to these risks. These risks can be managed through:

- following procedures to manage risks
- providing suitable personal protective equipment
- work health and safety induction and training
- involving learners in hazard identification and risk assessment practices
- close supervision by trainers, assessors, workplace supervisors and managers.

Each qualification in the SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package contains work health and safety unit(s) of competency requiring learners to achieve skills and knowledge to participate in, implement or manage safe work practices as appropriate to the qualification and job outcome. It is recommended that RTOs integrate the acquisition of these workplace skills and knowledge into daily training and assessment activities.

The SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package includes the following work health and safety (WHS) units of competency:

- SITXWHS001 Participate in safe work practices
- SITXWHS002 Identify hazards, assess and control safety risks
- SITXWHS003 Implement and monitor work health and safety practices
- SITXWHS004 Establish and maintain a work health and safety system.

2.8 Legal considerations for learners in the workplace or on placements

Legitimate work-based learning programs and placements give learners an opportunity to gain experience in the workplace. Under the Fair Work Act 2009, a vocational placement is a working arrangement where all of the following apply:

- the worker is not paid a wage
- it is a requirement of an Australian-based education or training course
- it is authorised under a law or administrative arrangement of the Commonwealth, or a State or Territory.

A learner in an arrangement that meets all of the above criteria is not covered by the Fair Work Act; and is not entitled to the minimum wages and other entitlements provided in the National Employment Standards and any applicable modern awards or agreement.

Refer: fairwork.gov.au/pay/student-placement-and-unpaid-work/pages/student-placements-work-experience-and-internships.aspx

Learners engaged as trainees or apprentices and those on work placements must comply with any general laws that regulate customer, business and employee interaction and should be inducted and supervised to ensure compliance.

Trainees, apprentices and learners gaining work experience are considered to be workers under work health and safety (WHS) law. Provisions of law relating to worker and employer responsibilities apply. Learners should be inducted and supervised to ensure compliance.

Individuals in the workplace, including learners, cannot be involved in the sale or service of alcohol or the provision of gambling services until they are 18 years old.

2.9 Resources and equipment

The assessment requirements for each unit of competency specify the equipment and other resources that must be provided by the RTO for assessment. This information is also relevant to delivery and is found in the Assessment Conditions field, which specifies:

- where the assessment must take place, the physical environment, e.g. an operational commercial bar, and indicates whether a simulated environment is appropriate
- what equipment must be provided for assessment, e.g. the fixtures and large and small equipment required to operate, for example, a bar
- what types of consumable resources or stock must be provided for assessment; e.g. commercial range of alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages for a bar
- what workplace documentation must be provided, e.g. bar menus, wine lists, or cocktail recipes used in a bar
- if relevant, other people who must be present during assessment, e.g. customers with whom the bar attendant must interact.

2.10 Simulation

Simulation, set up for the purpose of assessment, involves two components:

- simulated environments
- simulated activities.

Some SIT units require a defined number of “service periods” as a part of the performance evidence in the assessment requirements. It is noted that whether the assessment takes place in a workplace or a simulated environment, a service period should be defined by the context of the work skill being assessed. Service periods do not necessarily align with shift periods worked.

For example a “service period” in a hospitality environment such as a restaurant may be a breakfast service, lunch service or dinner service. A “shift” worked in a restaurant may incorporate one or more of these service periods. A learner may work a shift that incorporates a breakfast service and a lunch service and although this is one “shift” worked, it may be used for two service periods for the purpose of assessment. However, the two service periods must be clearly defined and the start/set-up and finish/close of each service period must be clearly identified.

2.10.1 Simulated environments for assessment

Because assessment in the workplace is not always possible, each SIT unit of competency allows assessment to be conducted in a simulated environment. Whenever a simulated assessment is conducted it is essential that the environment is as realistic as possible. Assessment must be conducted in the specified environment using the equipment and resources mandated in the Assessment Conditions field of the Assessment Requirements. This involves:

- using the appropriate environment, for example an operational touring environment, an operational accommodation environment, an operational commercial kitchen, or an operational events context
- providing current equipment and technology: that which is typically available in a modern tourism, travel or hospitality business
- providing a diverse, comprehensive and commercially realistic range of consumable resources or stock
- providing workplace documents currently used in industry: those that are typically available in a tourism, travel or hospitality business, including items such as policies, procedures, product manuals, plans, and report templates
- providing sufficient numbers of equipment and resources to service the assessment needs of each learner; sharing and “taking turns” using inadequate numbers leads to down-time for tasks and does not allow learners to demonstrate their capacity to work within commercial speed, timing and productivity timeframes
- ensuring that other required people are present, e.g. customers or team members.

2.10.2 Simulated workplace activities for assessment

The tourism, travel and hospitality industries highly value graduates who are ready to work in their businesses because they have been exposed to industry conditions. Whenever a simulated assessment activity is conducted it is essential that industry-relevant conditions are provided; those as close to a real work situation as possible.

This can involve:

- providing sufficient customer traffic that allows:
 - prioritisation of tasks so that customers are served effectively in a logical sequence

- learners to deal with multiple sales, service or operational tasks simultaneously
- integrating multiple competencies that an individual would naturally complete simultaneously as part of their job function
- learners working and communicating with multiple and varied team members, supervisors, managers and customers, including difficult ones
- requiring learners to work with commercial speed, timing and productivity
- building in a time and efficiency imperative, which might include:
 - deadlines for certain tasks
 - a number of items that must be produced within a set timeframe
 - a number of tasks that must be handled simultaneously
- expecting learners to deal with multiple and varied problems and prioritise competing tasks in given timeframes
- incorporating interruptions to work, typical of the workplace
- integrating health and safety issues, employment skills and compliance demands
- incorporating requirements to use the appropriate level of language, literacy and numeracy required by the work tasks
- asking learners practically oriented, applied knowledge questions.

2.11 Integrated (holistic) assessment

Holistic assessment brings together a number of units of competency, relevant to the business type, workplace and job role, that reflect actual workplace practices. The assessor should design integrated assessment activities to collect evidence for a number of units of competency together. Industry sees this realistic approach as essential for both delivery and assessment.

Related units of competency can be grouped together in a number of combinations for a logical integrated assessment. Any units of competency that relate to a job function can be combined to ensure an efficient and effective assessment process. The combination must be identified by the assessor to support the needs of industry businesses and job functions.

2.12 Assessor requirements

Assessors must meet certain requirements to assess units of competency in the SIT Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Training Package. These requirements align to the Standards for Registered Training Organisations. They also prescribe specific industry requirements to ensure that assessors have the correct vocational competency (occupational experience) to assess individuals against industry's standards.

SIT defines the requirements to be met by assessors on a unit by unit basis. Information is found in the Assessment Conditions field within the assessment requirements associated with each unit of competency. Requirements vary across units because they are tailored to the specific unit.

An example from SITEEVT004 Provide event staging support:

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors; and:

- have worked in industry for at least three years where they have applied the skills and knowledge of this unit of competency.

The Standards for Registered Training Organisations nominate that assessors must have:

- vocational competencies at least to the level being delivered and assessed; and
- current industry skills directly relevant to the training and assessment being provided; and
- current knowledge and skills in vocational training and learning that informs their training and assessment; and
- the appropriate assessor qualification or skill set.

This requires assessors to have the relevant vocational competencies for the units of competency they are assessing. For the tourism, travel and hospitality industries, vocational competency means that assessors must have relevant industry experience in the unit to fully understand the unit's workplace requirements and apply them to assessment.

In the above example, SIT defines this as having worked in industry for at least three years where they have applied the skills and knowledge contained in the unit of competency. This does not have to be in the events industry per se, as it is recognised that these skills could be gained when working in events, but likewise could be gained in other industries or sectors, such as venue management.

For many commercial cookery units, the requirement is:

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors; and:

- have achieved the Certificate III in Commercial Cookery or Certificate IV in Commercial Cookery to assess this unit as part of a Certificate III in Commercial Cookery or Certificate IV in Commercial Cookery qualification; and

- have worked in industry for at least three years where they have applied the skills and knowledge of this unit of competency.

Currency of vocational competence, as required by the Standards for Registered Training Organisations, is crucial to the success of assessment outcomes for the tourism, travel and hospitality industries. It ensures that those involved in assessment processes have current industry knowledge, expertise in current operational practice, and knowledge of what workplace equipment is currently used so that assessments reflect up-to-date workplace practice.

In some cases RTOs may elect to use a collaborative approach to assessment, in order to meet the requirements for industry skills and knowledge and training and assessment competencies required under the assessor requirements.

Co-assessment allows for an individual who meets the three year industry experience requirement found in some SIT units to assess in collaboration with an individual who holds the necessary training and assessment qualifications and competencies under the Standards for Registered Training Organisations. Co-assessment requires both the industry party and the assessor party to work together to collect the evidence to determine competence. The final determination of competence is made by the qualified assessor, who determines that the evidence collected is valid and sufficient to meet the assessment requirement.

Co-assessment may involve the parties gathering the evidence in a face-to-face environment, for example when a learner is completing mandated service periods required in the performance evidence of a unit of competency, or it may involve one party sending evidence to the other for consideration.

It is important, when considering a co-assessment model, that the assessment tools used are explicit in terms of the requirements for evidence and that these requirements are explained in detail to those using them to gather the evidence of competence.

Appendix 3: Unit of Competency and Assessment Requirements Explained

Each Unit of Competency follows this format:

UNIT CODE Version indicators (A, B etc.) have been removed. Subsequent versions of units will be given a new and unique code.	Units are coded in sequence from 001 onwards, for example SITHFABS001 – 020 Food and Beverage. SI = Service Industries T = Training Package identifier (Tourism, Travel and Hospitality) H = Sector (Hospitality) Codes no longer contain an AQF indicator which previously identified where a unit of competency was first packaged in a qualification. Units do not have an AQF level; qualifications do. Inclusion caused confusion for RTO users when selecting electives and RTO auditors when checking compliance with packaging rules. Some believed, for example, that a unit of competency with an AQF indicator 3 or 4, should not or cannot be packaged in a Diploma qualification. Users should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • read the unit of competency in its entirety to determine the complexity of skills and knowledge covered • read the Application statement which describes to whom the unit applies • refer to the table in this Companion Volume Implementation Guide to check where units of competency first appear in a qualification.
UNIT TITLE	Titles tell the user at a glance what the unit is about and describe the skill succinctly in workplace language. Changes for clarity include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Titles changed for consistency with other units of the same type e.g. SITXEVT301 Access information on event industry operations updated to SITEEVT001 Source and use information on the events industry • Titles changed to plural e.g. SITXEVT601 Research event industry trends and practice updated to SITEEVT011 Research event trends and practices • Titles changed from Produce to Prepare to better reflect cookery tasks e.g. SITHASC201 Produce dishes using basic methods of Asian cookery updated to SITHASC001 Prepare dishes using basic methods of Asian cookery • Titles changed to better meet content of unit e.g. SITTTOP301 Load touring equipment updated to SITTTOP001 Load touring equipment and supplies.
APPLICATION This combines the unit Descriptor and Application statement in previous units.	This statement introduces the unit, assists users to understand its complexity, and includes the following information: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a brief description of unit content • who performs the function described by the unit and at what level of workplace responsibility • typical job titles to clarify the unit’s applicability to different jobs • the unit’s relationship to any specific occupational licensing, certification or laws; where none exist this is stated.
PREREQUISITE UNIT	Where there is a prerequisite unit, the code and title are shown. Where none exist, the entry is shown as ‘Nil’.
COMPETENCY FIELD	Units are divided into a number of fields which describe similar functions, e.g. customer service, commercial cookery and catering, tour operations.

UNIT SECTOR	Units are categorised as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Events (E) • Cross-Sector (X) • Hospitality (H) • Tourism (T)
ELEMENTS	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements break down and describe the key outcomes which make up the Unit of Competency	Performance Criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate the achievement of the element – breaks down the element into smaller measurable “tasks”.
FOUNDATION SKILLS This section describes the language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills that are essential to performance and which must be assessed along with technical skills. Not every unit will contain every foundation skill. Foundation skills can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • reading • writing • oral communication • numeracy • learning • problem-solving • initiative and enterprise • teamwork • planning and organising • self-management • technology They will only be described in this section of the unit if they are not explicit in the performance criteria, or where a more detailed description will assist trainers and assessors to understand the unit-specific requirements and level of foundation skill required.
RANGE OF CONDITIONS This is an optional field in units. If used, the Range of Conditions cannot provide long explanatory lists of things that might apply. It is not used in the way that Range Statements were previously. Anything identified is mandatory for performance in a job and, therefore, must be assessed. Any Range of Conditions statements can only provide details of essential but different work environments or operating conditions. Some SIT units include Range of Conditions but a number of non-essential items have been deleted.
Information in previous Range Statements has been moved – “must” statements. Some important content previously in Range Statements moved to other fields for a better fit. Look in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • performance evidence (e.g. essential products or techniques) • knowledge evidence • assessment conditions (e.g. equipment).
UNIT MAPPING INFORMATION	Specifies code and title of any equivalent unit of competency from SIT12. Does not include detailed information about changes to a unit of competency. Full details are provided in a mapping table of units of competency in this Companion Volume Implementation Guide.

Each Assessment Requirements follows this format:

TITLE	Assessment Requirements for [unit of competency code and title]
PERFORMANCE EVIDENCE	Performance evidence specifies the mandatory: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • types of product and process evidence • volume and/or frequency of product or process evidence. This section uses sufficiency, consistency and adaptability as guiding principles for valid assessment. In other words, what does an individual have to do to prove they: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • are competent in the unit? (e.g. prove they can prepare quotations) • can complete all the tasks described by the performance criteria? • have all the necessary foundation skills? • have all the knowledge to effectively perform the work task? • can consistently demonstrate the outcomes? • can adapt to different situations or product requirements? Performance evidence statements stipulate the type and amount of evidence that a learner must provide and an assessor must collect. The requirements for assessment are clear, measurable, auditable and standardised across all RTOs.
KNOWLEDGE EVIDENCE	Knowledge evidence specifies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • what the individual must know in order to effectively complete the work task described in the unit of competency • the breadth and depth of what the individual must know • the amount of evidence that must be collected. Knowledge evidence relates directly to the performance criteria and can relate to Range of Conditions, if included.
ASSESSMENT CONDITIONS	This field stipulates mandatory conditions for assessment of the unit of competency. It lists all the things that an RTO must provide. It specifies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • where the assessment must take place and the physical environment, and indicates whether a simulated environment is allowed • what equipment must be provided for assessment • what types of consumable resources or stock must be provided for assessment • what workplace documentation must be provided • if relevant, other people who must be present during assessment, e.g. customers or team members • any essential time or timing requirements • the competency requirements for assessors, including requirements for industry experience and vocational qualifications.
